

James is the current CEO of Moahco Holding, LLC (www.Moahco.com) a global supplier of customizable Microsoft hosting, open source hosting, managed services, and professional services to start-up, small and midmarket enterprises. Our purpose is to help our partners run their businesses more effectively by outsourcing technology, enabling them to focus on their clients. Our services cover a wide range of business requirements, including web hosting, network monitoring, database management, legacy application migration, and software development. A senior Partner of Dmust LLC, James play the role of VP of Cloud at Dmust LLC.